2025 TRADE PRICE LIST

A TIMELINE® product
PART OF THE ANCESTORS® GROUP

The high skill of the designers, sculptors and craftsmen of SAC shines through in our collection of UK hand made chess sets and European chess boards. The richness of finish and attention to detail contribute to the success of the beautiful products from the SAC range, which are appreciated on five continents.

The chess sets are mainly produced in two finishes made from crushed stone poly resin. Hand painted sets where only certain parts are coloured by hand, whilst some areas remain plain, allowing for the natural material to be exposed after a light coloured wash of paint. Our regular sets are in a burgundy and cream plain finish with a light dark wash to emphasise the detail in the pieces. The chess sets do not come with the chess board which need ordering separately.

History

Studio Anne Carlton, SAC, was first established in 1969 to manufacture and distribute traditional games with the emphasis on chess sets. In 2003 the manufacturing production of the poly resin chess sets was moved to China, with design and development remaining in the UK. In May 2014 Ancestors® of Dover acquired the rights to manufacture and distribute the SAC range of decorative sets and classic games under their own brand Timeline®. Ancestors®, being a manufacturer of heritage products in the UK and casters in pewter were able to move the SAC brand into new areas of distribution and introduce, over the course of time, new products including English Pewter Chess Sets. All production of the chess set pieces is now in the UK and a far superior product is now produced.

Collectability

SAC, UK made, chess pieces are highly sought after in the collectable markets. The fact that these highly prized pieces are completely hand made makes volume production out of the question. Consequently many of the earlier and discontinued sets are returning substantial prices when appearing at auction. The sets are avidly collected by enthusiasts all over the world.

Accessories

Standard Chess sets do not include a chess board. SAC are very pleased to be able to provide a range of chess boards especially hand made in Europe using highly skilled craftsmen producing boards made to fit our sets in a variety of styles, finishes and including boards with space to accommodate and protect the SAC chess pieces. Also available are a range of high quality wooden games.

Customer Service

Ancestors® - Timeline® prides itself on the standard of its customer service working with its trademark of providing good old fashioned values in service and merchandise. No matter whether your first contact is by telephone, fax, letter or e-mail, helpful staff are available to deal with your request.

15105- Mini Isle of Lewis 2.5"

These chess pieces are reproductions of the Isle of Lewis chessmen. In 1831 the sea carried away a sandbank on the Isle of Lewis uncovering a mysterious building that had been buried under the sand. The superstitious highlander flung down his spade and fled home in horror. Superstition in Lewis had survived in a powerful form. Thus, when the peasant first looked at the group of singular little ivory figures it was natural that they should appear as the pigmy sprites of Celtic folklore. However, he was induced by his wife to return to the spot and take the figures home. He sold them to a local collector who realised they were chessmen. There were 78 pieces in all belonging to eight or more sets. This set requires one of our mini chess boards which is not included.

16108- ROMAN 4" HAND-PAINTED

The longevity and vast extent of the Roman Empire ensured the lasting influence of Latin and Greek language, culture, religion, inventions, architecture, philosophy, law and forms of government on the Empire's descendants. Throughout the European medieval period, attempts were even made to establish successors to the Roman Empire, including the Crusader state, the Empire of Romania and the Holy Roman Empire. By means of European expansionism through the Spanish, French, Portuguese, Dutch, Italian, Russian, German, British and Belgian Empires, Greco-Roman culture was spread on a worldwide scale, playing a significant role in the development of the modern world. 16187- BATTLE OF BANNOCKBURN HAND-PAINTED 4.25"

The pieces of this fabulous chess set depict the Scots side led by Robert the Bruce, King Robert I of Scotland, who was famously heartened by the tenacious spider to persist in his struggle against the English. He is accompanied by his Queen Elizabeth de Burgh who was reunited with king Robert after being captured eight years earlier. The English are represented by Edward II who reigned from 1284 until 1327 when he was deposed, imprisoned and horrifically killed at the behest of his wife, the Queen of England, Isabella of France. The rook on both sides is the Tower of Sterling Castle which overlooked the battle from its site on top of an ancient volcanic rock.

15114- Egyptian 4.5"

This beautiful chess set depicts figures from the civilisation of Ancient Egypt, a society which began around 3150BC, growing rapidly along the banks of the River Nile. Trade with other countries and its agricultural security helped it to become enormously prosperous; and due to this great wealth the rulers, known as Pharaohs, were very powerful, as were its priests.

This Studio Anne Carlton chess set depicts Ramesses II, also known as Ramesses the Great, who was the third pharaoh of the Nineteenth Dynasty of Egypt with his consort Nefertari. He is often regarded as the greatest, most celebrated, and most powerful pharaoh of the Egyptian Empire. Known as Ozymandias in Greek he was the longest ruling pharaoh, celebrating an unprecedented 14 'SED' festivals (the first held after thirty years of a pharaoh's reign, and then every three years) during his reign—more than any other pharaoh. On his death, he was buried in a tomb in the Valley of the Kings

16157- BATTLE OF HASTINGS HAND-PAINTED 4.5"

After the hard fought battle of Stamford Bridge in which King Harold II of England defeated and killed Harold Godwinson King of Norway, who had invaded Northumbria, Harold and his Saxon army marched from York to the South Coast of England. At the small village of Battle, just inland from Hastings, Harold's army met the invading forces of William Duke of Normandy. These chess pieces are authentic reproductions of the characters, clothing and equipment of the era.

15158- Robin Hood 4.5"

A very popular set which shows the infamous Robin Hood and other characters from his outlaw band ready to take on his adversary, The Sherriff of Nottingham. Robin Hood is a heroic outlaw in English folklore who, according to legend, was a highly skilled archer and swordsman. Traditionally depicted as being dressed in Lincoln green, he is often portrayed as "robbing from the rich and giving to the poor" alongside his band of Merry Men. Robin Hood became a popular folk figure in the late-medieval period, and continues to be widely represented in literature, films and television.

15161- BATTLE of Culloden 4.5"

Sculpted with great attention to detail and authenticity, this set shows the two sides, English and Scottish and the most important characters of the era prior to the famous battle at Culloden in 1746. Bonnie Prince Charlie was convinced that the Scots could beat the English in battle and thus the scene was set for Culloden. Fewer than 5000 rebels were mustered for the Prince's Army to fight the Duke of Cumberland's Army of 6400 foot soldiers and 2400 cavalry. The outcome of a particularly bloody battle was victory for the English and a loss of 2500 rebel lives. 1800 Scots were taken prisoner.

The Celts were Western European tribes inhabiting north west France, Cornwall, Wales, the Isle of Man and parts of Scotland and Ireland. They lived in tribal settlements and only rarely did they combine against an external common foe, so deep rooted were their own bitter quarrels. Our sculptors and designers have created from this historical event a chess set embodying many of the Celtic images and artefacts and characters of the period.

The American Civil War was one of the earliest true industrial wars. Railroads, the telegraph, steamships, and mass-produced weapons were employed extensively. The mobilization of civilian factories, mines, shipyards, banks, transportation and food supplies all foreshadowed the impact of industrialization in World War I. It remains the deadliest war in American history. This fabulous chess set depicts major players from one of the United States of America's most turbulent periods.

Our designers and craftsmen at Studio Anne Carlton have created a magnificent chess set which epitomises the struggles for domination between Christians and Muslims. This conflict has continued intermittently for over a thousand years but it is the period between 1095 and 1292 which has captured our imagination because of the exploits of the Crusader knights. Stories of heroes of the Crusades abound in all cultures. We invite you now to create your own heroes and villains from within the characters of our chess set.

Skilfully hand decorated by the artists at Studio Anne Carlton, these pieces represent the Christian side led by King Richard I of England, known as Richard the Lionheart, in combat with the Muslin armies led by Saladin. This chess set concentrates particularly on the Third great Crusade led by King Richard I of England who in 1189 joined king Philip II of France in an effort to recapture the holy city of Jerusalem. King Richard, with 8000 troops, sized Cyprus and some cities on the Palestinian coast, but ultimately failed to dislodge the Muslim leader, Saladin, from Jerusalem.

Since time immemorial men have fought battles with the oceans and seas of the world to try and master the incredible power of these vast bodies of water. The contest has always been unequal for the tempestuous seas are far more powerful than man or anything man made. So how has man been able to survive and flourish in such a hostile environment? By skill, bravery, cunning and a little luck. Our chess set characters symbolise the relationship that man has with the sea.

15167- SPARTACUS 5.25"

This superb chess set exactly captures the period in history between 73BC and 71BC when the oppressed slaves led by Spartacus, rose in revolt against their Roman masters. Spartacus was a gladiator of Thracian descent (modern day Bulgaria/Macedonia) and had probably been captured by the Romans whilst defending his country. The ultimate fate of Spartacus was never known. No matter if he died in battle or was crucified on the road to Rome, he gave his followers a year or two of liberty; freedom from their harsh conditions and hope of a better life. This chess set gives you the opportunity to fight again the battles of the slaves against their Roman masters. This time, the outcome may be different. Who knows?
